Account Manager – Digestive Health South West Region – United Kingdom (including Wales and parts of West Midlands) Salary/Rate: £40000- £50000 + 35% bonus (uncapped) Are you an experienced Sales Representative, Account Manager or Territory Sales Manager in Secondary Care? Are you confident building relationships with and presenting to Key Opinion Leaders in healthcare? Do you have a proven track record of success in sales of Medical Devices but want something more rewarding? Yes? Time to apply! Our client is a market leader in Pain Management & Chronic Care who are looking to grow their Sales team with a new Account Manager for the Digestive Health team in the UK. The successful candidate will be charged with maintaining existing and building new accounts across the South West and West Midlands region, while working as an effective member of the larger national team when required. They will be expected to have a proven commercial track record in secondary care, with a preference shown to candidates with experience in digestive health, although this is not a requirement. To be considered for this role you must be degree educated in a scientific or healthcare discipline, have proven commercial experience in healthcare sales, live in the UK without reliance on a sponsored visa, and have a full, clean driving license (class B). You must have the right to work in the UK, speak and write English fluently, and have a high attention to detail. For more information or to apply, please contact Graham Fish. Due to the volume of applications received on a daily basis, we find it incredibly difficult to respond to each and every one. Should you not hear back from us within two weeks, please assume your application was unsuccessful on this occasion.
