Analytics Pre Sales Architect - Permanent

Microsoft, SAP, some experience, consultant United Kingdom share on Analytics, Data & AI Pre-Sales Architects– Looking for the opportunity to work somewhere different? A place that will nurture your desire for knowledge and progression and will recognise the contribution you make to sales campaigns and customer success?

At delaware UK, we are looking for solution leaders and architects who want to work in a dynamic environment where you are truly able to contribute to the overall success of the business. Your knowledge and business acumen can be shared with progressive customers looking to deliver class leading solutions and, as one of a very small number of leading global consultancies, you will have access to the latest SAP and Microsoft technologies, so that you can be part of the team selling inspirational solutions that will only be limited by your own ambition.

Delaware is committed to delivering high value solutions in a more relaxed, informal yet energised working environment. Our team are best in class and we are seeking talented individuals who will not be constrained either by the organisation or glass ceilings within your role. Although we are a substantial global consultancy, we are an agile and ambitious business, not limited by the weight of large organisational structures, allowing our team the room to flourish and achieve their goals.

If you are successful, we want you to be actively involved and feel part of our business as it transforms and continues to scale.
