The O pportunity

Reporting to the Rail Operations Technical Delivery Lead you will be responsible for designing and developing our next generation of cloud-hosted web applications.

As an experienced front-end developer, you will primarily be focused on designing and building web applications, while also supporting theUX/UI design process.

Situated in our Darlington and Beeston (Notts) offices, the Rail Operations team is made up of around 80 hardworking and enthusiasticpeople who share a passion for delivering real value to, and driving change in, the UK rail industry.

We are the UK's largest and mostestablished rail operations provider with over contracts and 86 customers including the UK Government, Network Rail, as well as Trainand Freight Operation Companies.

Our products already underpin the rail network's vital infrastructure, but along with this pedigree we alsohave a compelling and exciting vision for the future. From embracing concepts such as GPS tracking, data analytics and cloud hosting,through to cutting edge technology like Digital Twins, machine learning and AI decision support, we are powering into the future withinnovation built on the strong foundations and experience of an industry leader.

Worldline's Integrale suite of software is widely recognized asthe leader in stock and crew management, train planning and disruption mitigation You will be working to enhance this through thedevelopment of the next generation of employee rostering functionality to be added to this portfolio. You will help to design and build thisproduct as part of a globally distributed team.

Day-to-Day Responsibilities

You will run technical design of front-end applications for web and mobile platforms

You will code and develop applications in line with industry best practice and local standards

You will break down designs into work packages for the wider development team

You will provide technical guidance and support to other developers

You will review work completed by the development team

Who Are We Looking For

We look for big thinkers. People who can drive positive change, step up and show what's next – people with passion, can-do attitude and a hunger to learn and grow. In practice this means:
You are an expert in modern Web Development Frameworks (e.g. Angular, or equivalent), relevant design principles and bestpractices (including unit testing).

You've got substantial knowledge in UI development (HTML, CSS, etc.).

Ability to make pragmatic technical decisions balancing innovation with practicality and maintainability.

Motivation and passion for building user-centric applications that support customers in achieving their business goals.

Strong focus on delivering quality code supported by robust testing practices.

You master new skills and technologies quickly.
