Chartered Building Surveyor

Bristol

Our client is a leading multidisciplinary consultancy based in Bristol who are looking for a talented Chartered Building Surveyor. This is a great opportunity to work with a successful nationwide business, offering a great financial package as well as career opportunities.

This opportunity exists for:

A chartered Building Surveyor, looking to work with one of the country's leading commercial property consultancies

OR a Surveyor with at least three years experience or close to completing their APC that wants to work with a leading commercial property consultancy who can help them in achieving chartered status.

The day to day:

At the Surveyor level the main aim is to work on enhancing your skills as a Building Surveyor by working on more complex matters in conjunction with our Associate Directors and Directors, taking responsibility for your own projects and pieces of work and gaining client exposure at the earliest possible point so that you can start taking on your own client responsibilities and relationships.

At the Senior Surveyor level the goal will be to continue working on your skills as a Building Surveyor once again with mentorship from our Directors and Associate Directors in the business. However by this point there is an expectation that you will already be working in a client facing role and taking responsibilities for more complex matters. In turn, LSH will begin helping you in your progression towards Associate Director by moving towards further exposure on specialist and complex Building Surveying matters and by gaining the business development skills to win your own clients and develop your own pipeline of work.

What's in it for you?

An opportunity to work with one of the country's leading, and most progressive, property consultancies, covering various sectors and dealing with massive and innovative projects. As well as immense career satisfaction, highly competitive salary and benefits are on offer to the right candidate.

The salary for this role will be negotiable depending on level of experience! (£30-50k range).

If you are interested in this brilliant opportunity and believe you are the right candidate, please apply below or call Finn Luckie on 01792 940003 or email your CV to
