Company: Ashbys Consulting

Location: Birmingham

Category: other-general

Ashbys Consulting are working with a bespoke building consultant in Central Birmingham who are looking for a Senior or Associate-level Building Surveyor with with proven experience in the commercial property sector.

This company have a small team of highly specialist Surveyors who deliver a variety of project-based, and professional services across most of the commercial property sectors including healthcare; education; retail; offices; and industrial.

With a relatively small team in Birmingham, there is the opportunity for an experienced Surveyor to work closely alongside the Directors of the business, with the potential to manage a small team in the near future. You will also be allowed (to an extent) to hand pick the sector you operate in, and the clients you work with.

You will need a proven track record of delivering projects and professional services in similar environments; ideally with the ability to manage clients and bring in new work. You should be MRICS or FRICS, with the expertise and autonomy to be able to deliver high value work in a bespoke consultancy environment.

The company offer a hugely generous and negotiable salary and benefits package, as well as plenty of flexibility around hybrid working and management of your own time.
