Company: QED

Location: United Kingdom

Category: other-general

Associate / Senior Associate

This top tier firm with global reach is looking for experienced Commercial Property Solicitors to join their Clean Energy Project team. This is a fantastic opportunity to join an innovative team leading the charge in the future clean energy and biodiversity sector. Based in Bristol, this team specialises in advising national and international energy clients on the real estate aspects of significant energy infrastructure projects, spanning wind, solar, battery storage, electric vehicles, and hydro developments.

Due to the success of the team, there are multiple vacancies at different levels to join this exciting sector.

The work encompasses a diverse scope of tasks, from acquisitions and disposals to overseeing landlord and tenant relations, asset management, and portfolio management across various asset categories. Notably, solar projects and Battery Energy Storage Schemes stand out as core areas of expansion. The team is actively seeking experienced lawyers with expertise in the future energy sector to enhance their capabilities in Bristol.

If you would like to learn more about this Clean Energy Real Estate Solicitor opportunity, please contact Matt Dewsnap at QED Legal.
