Who are we looking for?

Someone with a passion for the outdoors who has skills in:

General gardening (including physical work like digging, lifting, carrying things).

Growing and nurturing plants, trees, flowers.

Comfortable working in a customer-facing role in a diverse community.

A team player. We're mostly all part-time and/or volunteers relying on, and supporting each other, in our various roles. We're a very friendly bunch and warmly welcome new people on the team.

Keen to learn and share knowledge about growing fruits and vegetables in an eco-friendly way. You'll need to be over 18, please.

What difference will you make?

Despite being based in the garden, you'll be part of our pilot project which, if successful, will see versions of The Hub rolled out across the UK, providing a blueprint for others to be shared and upscaled.

This is about engagement and encouragement: about trying and learning. We want to make people feel that whatever they can do helps, by learning new skills like gardening to grow their own produce, this is all part of the small everyday changes they can make to help fight climate change.
