Design Manager

Getting the design right is crucial to the success of any project, we are expanding our preconstruction team and recruiting a Design Manager to support our projects across the East Midlands. The successful candidate will work in a hybrid way from our preconstruction office in Nottingham, home and onsite.

The main role of a Design Manager at Willmott Dixon is to manage the design process, promote integration of disciplines and select, manage, and appoint consultants to ensure that they perform in line with their deed and agreed scope of services.

You will therefore be able to overview, monitor and report on design programmes, and provide technical support to the bid process. In addition, you will be developing designs that utilise innovative techniques on multiple/complex projects.

The key responsibilities are:

Lead the design process to produce accurate information in line with the agreed specification and cost plan / estimate

It is also equally important to manage the appointment of consultants and ensure that they perform in line with their deed and agreed scope of services

Develop a design programme with the consultants to meet the agreed whole life programme dates

Provide cost effective technical solutions

Chair design team meetings and issue actions

Produce designs that meet all necessary statutory and regulatory approvals and record on appropriate tracking logs

Essential and Desirable Criteria

The ideal candidate:

Will have managed design on projects between 10 and 40 million pounds across multiple sectors.

Blue light project experienced is desired but not essential

Have an understanding of CAD, Microsoft Office and various other construction technology

Be able to read and interpret drawings and technical specifications

Able to manage specialist designers/ subcontractors and supply chain partners

Hold a valid driving license and a CSCS card

In return

In return we provide you a competitive salary, comprehensive benefits package to fit your lifestyle and priorities, the opportunities for you to develop your career with Willmott Dixon and the training to make this happen - but most importantly a great place to work with a true family ethos and a chance to develop your career of a lifetime!

At Willmott Dixon we provide an inclusive and flexible working environment for people to thrive in and we are happy to support agile working wherever possible.

We are a proud member of the Disability Confident Scheme.

About Us
