Fullstack / Front End - Sustainability / BCorp - £80k – UK fully remote JavaScript, TypeScript, React, NodeIt's great to be working with a BCorp and sustainable partner on a new JavaScript Hire. Everything they create is focused on making our everyday lives easier and keeping the planet clean! And they are winning the David and Goliath battle against some big corporates. This is a chance to join a fast-paced, talented, and flexible full-stack team. They have created a great culture which has allowed them to double in size in 24 months, with only one person leaving the business in 3 years despite being almost 100 strong as a business. Sustainability experience is not required but would be a bonus. They are looking for someone who is confident, hands-on with code, capable of building new features, and set best practices within the wider team. Happy to speak with front-end and full-stack engineers for this role. Must have demonstrable TypeScript experience from recent projects. We are able to move quickly on this role so the interview process: Screening call with recruiter Technical assessment Values chat with CTO Offer!
