Company: Blockovate

Location: United Kingdom

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Blockovate is a new and ambitious marketing agency on a mission to help innovative blockchain based solutions reach their target audience.

We work with the leading blockchain projects and help transform their marketing efforts, ensuring their project reaches the right audience, and achieves its necessary goals.

Role

We are looking for an ICO Presale Moderator to support one of projects that is looking to redefine the gaming industry with a groundbreaking NFT collection and Play-to-Earn game. As our ongoing presale gathers momentum, we are seeking a dynamic and proficient Japanese language moderator to bolster our community engagement efforts. This role will play a pivotal role in nurturing our Japanese community's enthusiasm and ensuring a seamless presale experience.

Join us in shaping the future of gaming and blockchain technology while championing the Japanese community's voice. If you're passionate about gaming, fluent in Japanese, and eager to drive community engagement, we invite you to apply!

Please note: This is a remote contract position.

Responsibilities

Community Engagement: Proactively engage with Japanese-speaking community members across various platforms

Gaming Expertise: Educate the Japanese community about the unique features and benefits of our NFT collection and P2E game, fostering excitement and engagement.

Compliance and Regulation: Stay informed about relevant regulations and compliance standards in Japan pertaining to NFTs, gaming, and cryptocurrency.

Conflict Resolution: Act as a mediator in resolving disputes, conflicts, or misunderstandings within the Japanese community.

Feedback Collection: Solicit feedback, suggestions, and feature requests from Japanese community members regarding the NFT collection, gaming experience, and presale process.

Reporting: Generate regular reports detailing community engagement within the Japanese community. Provide actionable insights and recommendations to optimize community strategies and presale initiatives.

Requirements

Fluency in Japanese and proficiency in English, with exceptional written and verbal communication skills in both languages.

Extensive knowledge of blockchain technology, NFTs, cryptocurrency, and gaming ecosystems.

Previous experience in community management, gaming moderation, or NFT community building preferred.

Strong interpersonal skills with the ability to foster connections and inspire community participation.

Detail-oriented mindset with a proactive approach to problem-solving and conflict resolution.

Remote work proficiency and self-motivated work ethic with the ability to manage tasks independently.

Benefits

£12,000 - £20,000 per annum

Flexible working hours and the freedom of a remote role

Direct impact in a company that values its community above all

Continuous learning opportunities in the forefront of the crypto movement

The opportunity to work with a talented and friendly group of people who are driven to be the best at what they do

We offer a place for you to take ownership of your work and grow within the business

Everyone is valued, listened to and recognised as contributing in their own way to the company's success
