Senior / Lead Software Developer Fully Remote £65,000-£85,000 Are you looking for your next 'fully remote' challenge within Software Development and interested in stepping into a leadership role? I'm currently recruiting for a global business who specialise in completing screening checks across the UK for a whole host of industries and sectors, whilst at the same time implementing modern technologies to make themselves the most cutting edge, efficient and forward-thinking companies within their market. They are global and part of a wider group who recently received $50m funding, giving them a great platform to kick on with growth plans for the next few years. They are looking for a 'Senior / Lead Software Developer' who can come in and work alongside the Development Manager, supporting the leadership of the team which is beginning to grow and the role will develop into a fully-fledged leadership position over time. They are open to taking people on with official leadership experience or developers who are looking to make that step up from a mentoring level to something more official. The progression opportunities are huge in-line with the company's trajectory. The role will be fairly hands on and is first and foremost a development role where you will work on front end web development, database and backend development including infrastructure and integrations. Salary for this role is between £65,000-£85,000 and is fully remote with no official requirement to go into their Sussex offices. These guidelines will not change overtime. Technical Requirements Good amount of commercial experience in a Full Stack environment. Back End Skills: C#, .Net Core, ASP.NET MVC, SQL, Microservices. Front-End Skills: JavaScript, HTML, CSS, Angular (ideal). Additional Skills: Cloud experience ideally with Azure, Terraform, Swagger, Postman. Desire to learn and progress within the business. Degree educated in Computer Science or related field would be ideal. Benefits £65,000-£85,000 40 days holiday including bank holidays. 4% Pension. £300 work from home fund. Free eye test. Equity stake/share options. If this opportunity is of interest, then please email me your CV and let me know a good time that I can give you a call. If this role is not of interest but your Tim Stock – tstock@pg-rec.com 01189028800 / 07980610737
