Job Description

Midday Supervisor, also known as a lunchtime supervisor, is responsible for overseeing students during their lunch break in a school setting. Their primary duties include ensuring the safety and well-being of students, supervising and maintaining order in the dining area and playground, and assisting with meal service as needed. They may also intervene in minor conflicts, monitor behavior, and provide support to students as necessary. Strong interpersonal and communication skills are essential, as midday supervisors often interact with students, teachers, and school staff.
