Locum People are looking for an experienced Medicine SHO to take on an amazing opportunity that we currently have available. Currently in Northern Ireland we have a Haematology SHO position that offers a very lucrative rate. The hospital in which this position is available also offers training and support as they do understand that Haematology is more of a niche Medicine Specialty. But I can assure you this will be no issue for a doctor who has had previous NHS experience within a Medicine position.

We also have many other SHO Medicine positions available offering great rates, please take a look at the other jobs on our Job Board, or please feel free to call in and ask to speak with myself (Santino).
