Company: Employment Solutions Ltd

Location: Heywood

Category: architecture-and-engineering

We are in search of an electrical engineer in Heywood to join a well-established containment factory in the North West, located in Heywood. The role involves collaborating with both skilled and semi-skilled technicians on electrical appliances based on wiring diagrams. The environment is supportive, and benefits include competitive salaries, annual bonuses linked to company performance, and generous holiday allowances.

The ideal candidate

This position is ideal for an experienced individual proficient in electrical systems, fault-finding, and diagnostics, with qualifications such as the 18th edition and City & Guilds 2360, 2382, and 2391. The ideal candidate should be proactive, results-oriented, and skilled in problem-solving to ensure continuous improvement.

Key Responsibilities

Working hands-on with a team to assemble electrical appliances according to wiring diagrams.

Maintaining standard operating procedures and electrical test records.

Adhering to company standards, complying with wiring designs, and following safety protocols.

Using drawings and specifications to identify materials and construct electrical sub-assemblies.

Performing fault-finding, system diagnostics, and risk assessments.

Benefits:

Salary up to £32,000. Annual bonus linked to company performance.

24 days of annual leave plus bank holidays.

Discounts on shopping and leisure activities.

Supportive work culture with an experienced management team.
