About Our Client: Established in 2019, our client is a dynamic and rapidly expanding managed service provider specializing in the design, construction, and management of contemporary data platforms for a diverse client base. With a focus on technologies like Fivetran, DBT, and Snowflake, they're committed to propelling clients' data journeys forward. Their growth trajectory has been remarkable, thanks to an innovative approach and dedication to excellence. They're looking for a Power BI Developer to join their team and contribute to their mission of delivering superior data solutions.

The Opportunity: Our client is seeking a Power BI Developer eager for a new challenge and ready to make a significant impact. This role is perfect for someone currently feeling unfulfilled in their BI position and looking for an opportunity to lead, innovate, and grow within a vibrant business environment.

Key Responsibilities:

* Lead Power BI projects, managing all aspects from client engagement to UAT and project sign-off.

* Work on multiple projects simultaneously, delivering high-quality BI solutions.

* Collaborate within a POD structure alongside Data Architects, Data Engineers, and Business Analysts to deliver comprehensive client projects.

* Engage in continuous learning and development to stay at the forefront of BI technology and practices.

What We Offer:

* A supportive and ambitious company culture that values personal growth and development.

* A laid-back yet focused work environment dedicated to delivering quality services to our clients.

* A competitive benefits package including Pension, Vitality Healthcare, Annual Bonus, and Matchable volunteering opportunities.

* Generous holiday allowance of 28 days plus an extra day for each year of service, with office closure during Christmas.

* Opportunities for remote, hybrid, or office-based work arrangements.

* A clear and objective tiering structure for promotions and salary increases, ensuring your hard work and achievements are recognised and rewarded.

About You:

* Passionate about BI and data architecture, intensely wanting to lead and manage projects.

* Experienced working with multiple projects and technologies such as Power BI, Fivetran, DBT, and Snowflake.

* A team player who thrives in a collaborative environment but also possesses the independence to drive projects forward.

* Keen on personal and professional development, looking to grow within a company that values innovation and ambition.

Join Us: If you're ready to take your BI career to the next level and contribute to a growing company with big ambitions, we'd love to hear from you. Our client offers a unique opportunity to be part of a startup culture without the associated risks, backed by a team of dedicated professionals and a clear vision for the future.

Apply now to become part of our journey and help us shape the future of data management and analytics.
