About The Role

David Wood Foods is a food manufacturing organisation with a site based in Sheerness. We have over 20 years experience in the food business, and currently produce a range of quality products for the retail and foodservice industry from seven high-tech factories. Yet we're not a company to sit back and relax. Product development is our heartbeat and we work closely with our customers to develop products that combine specific requirements and imaginative flair. Working with key partners we have already developed a number of new exciting and award-winning products that continue to attract and delight consumers. We are looking for "Production/Packing Operatives" to join our fast growing team and business based in Sheerness, Kent. Your main tasks will be to ensure products are produced and packed in an efficient and timely manner to the highest possible quality standards working to our customer specifications.
