job details

Are you an experienced and skilled Quantity Surveyor seeking a new and rewarding opportunity? Look no further! We are currently hiring for the position of Intermediate Quantity Surveyor/Project Quantity Surveyor at a reputable medium-sized main contractor. This is your chance to work on a prestigious commercial project in the heart of London, valued at approximately £20 million.

Position: Intermediate Quantity Surveyor/Project Quantity Surveyor

Location: Central London

Salary: Up to £65,000 (dependent on experience)

As an Intermediate Quantity Surveyor/Project Quantity Surveyor, you will play a crucial role in the team, working autonomously while supporting a Senior Quantity Surveyor. This is an excellent opportunity to contribute your expertise and take on a leadership role on the project.

Key Responsibilities:

Manage the commercial aspects of the project independently

Assist with cost planning, estimating, and budget management

Conduct feasibility studies and financial assessments

Collaborate with subcontractors and suppliers to ensure accurate pricing

Prepare tender and contract documents

Manage procurement processes

Monitor project costs and variations

Prepare progress reports and maintain financial records

Provide support to the Senior Quantity Surveyor as required

Requirements:

Previous experience as an Intermediate Quantity Surveyor or Project Quantity Surveyor

Strong knowledge of quantity surveying principles and practices

Proven ability to work autonomously and meet deadlines

Excellent numerical and analytical skills

Strong communication and interpersonal skills

Degree or relevant qualification in Quantity Surveying or related field

This client values professional growth and development. This position offers excellent progression opportunities, allowing you to enhance your skills and broaden your expertise. As an integral part of this landmark commercial project in London, you will have the chance to make a significant impact and contribute to its success.
