Are you a qualified Teaching Assistant looking for an exciting new role in SEND as a Residential Support Worker?

Are you dedicated to working with and supporting children with additional needs or disabilities? Are you nurturing and compassionate to help children with SEND engage, strive and accomplish during their time in school?

Do you want to work in an SEND residential setting in Chester?

If this is you, then Academics have the role for you!

If you enjoy working with children and young people with communication difficulties, hearing and visual impairments, cognition needs, behavioural needs, complex physical and medical needs, or sensory processing disorders, keep reading to find out more about a fantastic opportunity to be part of an OUTSTANDING SEN in Chester as a Residential Support Worker.

As a Residential Support Worker you will:

- * Work holistically as part of a team with education staff and families to plan, practice and collect evidence of progress within the 24-hour extended curriculum.
- * Create a positive environment, reflective of the school's culture and ethos.
- * Work with pupils both individually and in small groups supporting them to overcome barriers to learning, providing positive behaviour support and delivering other focused interventions.
- * Uphold School policies to protect and safeguard pupils and vulnerable adults in order to secure their health, safety and wellbeing

What As a Residential Support Worker, Academics can offer you:

- * Flexibility: Choose when and where you work, and enjoy a better work-life balance.
- * Variety: Work with different age groups and schools, keeping your teaching experience diverse and engaging.
- * Competitive pay: We offer highly competitive rates of pay, ensuring that your skills and experience are valued.
- * Opportunities for progression: We offer professional development opportunities to help you grow and advance in your career.
- * A supportive agency: We provide ongoing support, including access to training and resources, to help you succeed in your role.

If you believe you're the Residential Support Worker we are looking for, please contact Laura at Academics or send your CV TODAY!
