About the role:

As a Residential Support Worker, you will support young people in the many different aspects of daily life within our homes including:

Helping young people continue with hobbies, social activities, and friendships, and learn new skills.

Providing support with morning routines such as getting ready for school and making sure they have a good breakfast.

Preparing evening meals and ensuring the young person has a safe space to relax and unwind within the home.

Supporting young people to reach their potential and experience new opportunities.

If you're passionate about making a difference to the lives of young people and enabling them to shape their own future, then we want you to be part of our team.
