SAP Delivery Solution Architect - Permanent

SAP, lot of experience, consultant United Kingdom share on

You're a passionate and critical process thinker with an eye for the user experience – someone who thinks first and acts later. You know exactly how to find gaps, spot domains that are not optimally aligned or detect mistakes that are being overlooked, in any business process - no matter how small.

You dare to question our organization's business processes, data models and application landscape, mapping out “what do we have” to “what do we need” in detail, before actual projects kick off - to save development teams from trouble down the road. Because problems will arise – but it's your responsibility to guard any project scope that optimizes our internal business processes. You understand data models and IT landscapes can be complex, but it's vital for an organization's business-critical applications and data models to be continually aligned.
