Company: Eleven Recruitment

Location: Macclesfield

Category: life-physical-and-social-science

Are you ready to dive into the cutting-edge world of high-performance materials and renewable energy? We are seeking a skilled Scale-Up Chemist to lead the charge at our client site in Macclesfield?

As a Scale-Up Chemist, you'll be the driving force behind their polymerisation processes. Your main responsibilities include analysing experimental data, designing robust experiments, and supporting various projects. Your expertise will be pivotal in scaling our technology from the lab to pilot plants and into full-scale production.

We are looking for somebody with:

- Hands-on R&D experience (2+ years)

- Direct laboratory experience with polymers and polymerisation reactions

- Knowledge of catalysis within liquid or gas

- Bonus points for scale-up experience or understanding.

Our client are not just innovating— they are revolutionising the renewable energy industry. Get ready to be at the forefront of exciting and impactful work with some of the brightest minds in the field.

If you're ready to make a difference and drive the future of materials science, apply now and we'll be in touch if successfully shortlisted.
