Senior Account Manager - Global Agency - Health PR - Hybrid, London
Thrilled to be able to bring this new opportunity to my Health PR Network. We are proud to be partnering with our client, a global Med Comms and PR agency, in their search for a Senior Account Manager to come on board to join their growing team in the UK. We are searching for a confident and accomplished SAM with experience working on Global PR projects with Pharma/Biotech Clients. It is especially important that you would have a solid background working on Data Comms and Regulatory Milestone Deliverables. The client is a Global Agency renowned for their creative and innovative approach to create engaging and successful content, leading to building strong and long-lasting relationships with their clients. Within this business you will benefit from a strong reputation and resources, access to a variety of clients and projects and a business that works hard to foster a super connected environment - you will want to be office based to experience the dynamic and creative collaboration. If you are interested to explore the market and find your next 'home' within the Health PR space, please do reach out to learn more about the role.
