Company: IC Resources

Location: Southampton

Category: other-general

I am currently working with a Southampton-based company, that focuses on high-performance fibre lasers and photonic crystal fibres.

They are looking for a Senior Mechanical Design Engineer to be responsible for mechanical development for laser products through the entire product lifecycle.

They are looking for an exceptional Senior Mechanical Design Engineer to join a great team of engineers. As the Senior Mechanical Design Engineer, you will:

- Support prototype assembly, test, and drive design improvements

- Ensure product compliance and certifications are according to standards.

- Work closely with systems integration groups.

- Interact with project and product stakeholders.

- Take the lead on some work packages.

What's required for a successful Senior Mechanical Design Engineer?

- Ability to mentor other team members.

- Experience and knowledge of optical systems or lasers

- Experience in hi-tech equipment

Expert in mechanical design and drawing standards.
