Company: IC Resources

Location: Southampton

Category: other-general

I am currently working with a Southampton-based company, that focuses on high-performance fibre lasers and photonic crystal fibres. They are looking for a Senior Mechanical Design Engineer to be responsible for mechanical development for laser products through the entire product lifecycle. They are looking for an exceptional Senior Mechanical Design Engineer to join a great team of engineers. As the Senior Mechanical Design Engineer, you will: Support prototype assembly, test, and drive design improvements. Ensure product compliance and certifications are according to standards. Work closely with systems integration groups. Interact with project and product stakeholders. Take the lead on some work packages. What's required for a successful Senior Mechanical Design Engineer? Ability to mentor other team members. Experience and knowledge of optical systems or lasers. Experience in hi-tech equipment. Expert in mechanical design and drawing standards. Hands-on skills. If you are a Senior Mechanical Design Engineer looking for a new opportunity within a leading supplier company, please apply to learn more. If you are interested in this or other Mechanical Design Engineer opportunities, please contact Jade Arnott.
