Company: Marks, part of SGS & Co

Location: England

Category: other-general

Marks is the next generation brand design and experience agency - boutique in mindset, entrepreneurial in spirit, global in scale - uniquely constructed to enable brands to win in an age of constant change. Worldwide, we're over 500 divergent talents, across 18 locations, united in a seamless end-to-end methodology with our parent company, SGS&Co. Our focus is on 'adaptive' delivery, the fuel that powers our clients to move fast, move forward and move confidently. We are currently seeking a Senior Producer to join our Content Studio team in the UK, out of either our Birmingham or London location. This is an outstanding opportunity for an individual with solid experience in a CGI-led agency environment to step up into a new role. This will include working closely with Creatives, CGI Artists, Photographers, Retouchers & Film Makers to take ownership of all aspects of production & post-production processes. Along with the opportunity to develop your producer skills, this role offers great opportunities for career progression as the Content Studio expands and evolves. Furthermore, you will have the opportunity to work with an awesome household name global client – we can't say who – but they're amazing. More importantly than any of the above, you will of course be a team player, who enjoys collaborating to get things done. Our hybrid working model strikes a balance between flexibility and enabling you to collaborate with your creative design and production colleagues in a supportive and nurturing environment. In this role you will:

- Budget, estimate, schedule, and manage production across several concurrent brands and projects
- Manage all aspects of day-to-day production in a CGI-led studio environment
- Proactively communicate and manage expectation with clients and client service teams around all aspects of production and project delivery
- Identify and clearly communicate project resource requirements in a consistent, accurate and timely manner• Work with Resource Managers and Producers in other global studio locations to proactively solve capacity challenges• Forecast, request, book, and on-board freelance resource, when necessary• Negotiate costings with external providers, ensuring their costs align to budgets and expectation• Manage all aspects of project documentation management, including estimates, PO's, NDA's, MSA's etc. • Manage multiple third-party supplier relationshipsYou will have:• Experience gained within a CGI-led studio environment, ideally within a brand or packaging-centric agency• Experience of pre/post-production & shooting of video content would be highly advantageous• The ability to craft and review SOWs with experience in accurately identifying project risks• Ability to quickly and effectively draft indicative project budgets in advance of concept approval• Strong interpersonal skills, with the ability to direct a team while promoting a positive morale in a fast-paced, delivery-driven environment• Proficiency in project management tools such as Shotgrid, Jira, Trello etc• A point of view on the tools required by teams to ensure consistency in best practice for production management – what to use when, and why• Ability to manage, coach and lead teams of production artists and direct reports• Ability to outline and develop best practices and processes – a leader, not a followerWhen working for Marks you will enjoy an excellent base salary, along with an outstanding suite benefits including :• 25 days holiday per annum + additional 'Me Day'• Flexible working during summer hours• Pension Scheme• Voluntary SGS Europe Group Healthcare Scheme• Life Assurance• Healthcare Digital GP Service• Holiday purchase scheme• Health Assured Employee Assistance Programme• City Bike Scheme (London only)• Employee referral program
