The Role

This is a full-time permanent vacancy to recruit a range of positions on behalf of our Pharma & Biotech clients across the UK and Europe. This is a desk with lots of clients available for you to recruit for straight away! There is also plenty of scope for developing the sector and building your own team if that appeals to you.

We have long-standing relationships with our clients, and we benefit from ongoing repeat business, but there is also the opportunity for new client development activities to ensure a steady stream of new business is coming in.

What Kind of Person Are We Looking For?

Ideally, we are looking for someone with previous recruitment experience and demonstrable success throughout that time but for us attitude and personality are key.

A strong work ethic, proactive and focused approach with a good sense of humour will ensure you fit in to our team and culture.

You'll have strong candidate and client development skills and you know what it takes to be successful in recruitment.

Perhaps you're working in a role that is heavily KPI focused and you're looking for a bit more autonomy? Or you're back working in the office and you'd prefer a remote or hybrid set up? Or you're simply interested in joining a recruitment business with a great culture, excellent reputation and rated 'world class' for customer service?

What Next?

For further information or an initial chat, please don't hesitate to contact me, via , or send me your CV and a brief covering note explaining why you believe you are a strong candidate for this role.

Meanwhile, please feel free to have a look through our which will provide some further information.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Anna
