

Senior Structural Engineer - Highways

Apply Now

Company: hireful

Location: Leeds

Category: architecture-and-engineering

One of the UK's leading Structural Engineering Consultancies are going through an exciting period of growth that has brought about the need to bolster their business with 2 Senior Engineers. You will have experience working as a Project Structural Engineer, on a variety of projects working with different clients. We are looking for Senior Associate Engineers and Senior Project Engineers at present.

Role: Associate Structural Engineer aka Senior Structural Engineer, Senior Project Engineer

Location: Work from home - Office is in Leeds and we would expect you to come into the office around 1-2 times a month

Salary: £40k-£65k base salary, Car allowance, fuel card covering all personal and work mileage and Discretionary bonus

Benefits: 2:30pm Friday finish, 20-25 days holiday + bank holidays, 5.5% non-contributory pension, Private Healthcare, Death in service 4x salary.

You will be an experienced Structural or Civil Engineer, preferably qualified to MIStructE or Chartered ICE level (not a necessity though) with experience leading a variety of structural and civil engineering projects (we are looking for one person with experience of highways). A background leading a team of Engineers and technicians on a variety of projects would be advantageous, but this is not a necessity. You will take ownership of the technical team output whilst managing cost, budget and ensuring work is completed to agreed timescales.

You will be given every opportunity to progress your career within the organisation up to Director level, giving you time and resources that will allow you to upskill and go on to achieve great things. Career progression is something this company prides themselves on, and they are very proud to have seen some of their senior team climb the ladder to this date.
