Coltech is partnered with a global consultancy who are looking for an experienced IT Solution Architect to work with one of their world-known banking clients! We are seeking a senior architect to join our client on a contract basis. The successful candidate would work with The Group Finance Architecture team. This team is tasked with conducting architectural tasks that usually occur during the initial stages of project/program definition.
Responsibilities: Lead the design and maintenance of a suite of platforms and applications supporting Group Treasury operations, ensuring their overall effectiveness and reliability. Collaborate with senior architects to ensure that solution designs meet enterprise needs and adhere to architectural standards and policies, documenting them appropriately. Work closely with architects and technologists to translate strategic vision into actionable plans, considering practical implementation and operational factors. Obtain approval for designs from relevant authorities, documenting deviations and key decisions as necessary.
Key Skills: Proven experience as an IT Solution Architect in large, complex enterprises. Demonstrated ability to design IT solution architectures, including phased implementation and migration plans. Knowledge and experience across various architectural domains (business, data, application, technology). Familiarity with architectural frameworks, techniques, and practices used in enterprise and solution architecture. Strong analytical skills for solving complex problems on a large scale. Experience in traditional enterprise environments, understanding how digital transformation impacts existing processes. Proficiency in modern architecture approaches, particularly in data and process optimization. Desirable Skills: Familiarity or experience in areas such as Capital Management, Liquidity, Interest Rate Risk, and Financial Resource Management would be an advantage. Apply now for immediate consideration.
