We are hiring Trainee Recruitment Consultants to join one of our clients! Why them? Our client is an expert in Construction recruitment. They are a team of 20 and looking to hire trainee consultants into the team. There are lots of live roles to work on and you will be sourcing and hunting for candidates using job boards, LinkedIn and their database. You will also be trained in sales from day one and will approach potential new clients to provide them with contract and permanent hires. This is a phone based sales role so you need to be ambitious, hardworking and full of energy. They will provide you with all the tools you need to do your job and a great team environment. Whilst being successful and earning well is the key, this business and its people are also honest and ethical and they treat their clients and candidates well. They are looking to hire people who like working in a team so they can support their colleagues and help them be successful too! The role comes with a competitive basic salary, excellent commission scheme, lots of training and development, support and a fun culture. Based in Enfield in lovely offices with parking. The team works 4 days in the office and 1 from home but you will be in the office full time for training to start with. What are we looking for? · Construction or sales or customer service experience but the right attitude is more important! · Hard working and financially driven · Good team player - you want others to do well! · Highly proactive and motivated by results · Organised and enthusiastic
